	APPENDIX 1: MISSING FROM CARE FLOW CHART	27

1. INTRODUCTION

These procedures refer to situations when children go missing from home or when children who are looked after by the local authority go missing from residential or foster care.

It defines the roles and responsibilities of agencies and staff concerned with safeguarding children and young people.

This document should be read as guidance, which cannot anticipate every situation. Police, Children's Services staff and foster carers should use their professional judgement to take any action they feel necessary to protect the safety of the child based on an assessment of risk for each individual child.

All parties involved in the protocol should be clear about the definition of a "missing person" – This guidance should be read alongside the most up to date guidance from Northumbria Police as this will include a definition of "missing" and the actions taken on each occasion.

Children who go missing are at increased vulnerability of being abused and/or exploited. As well as short-term risks there are also long-term implications; adults with serious problems have often run away as children.

The reasons for running or going missing are often varied and complex and cannot be viewed in isolation from their home circumstances and their experiences of care.

Every 'missing' episode should attract the proper attention from the professionals involved with the missing person and they must collaborate to ensure a consistent and coherent response is given to the missing person on his/her return.

The statutory guidance on children who go missing from home or care can be accessed here including a summary written specifically for care workers and foster carers.

2. DEFINITIONS

Based on the 'Statutory guidance on children who run away or go missing from home or care' (DfE 2014) the definitions which should be used when working with children, young people and their families are set out as follows:

Child:	Young runaway:	Missing child:	Looked after child:	Care leaver:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> anyone who has not yet reached their 18th birthday. 'Children' and 'young people' are used throughout this guidance to refer to anyone under the age of 18; 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a child who has run away from their home or care placement, or feels they have been forced or lured to leave; 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a child reported as missing to the police by their family or carers; 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a child who is looked after by a local authority by reason of a care order, or being accommodated under section 20 of the Children Act 1989; 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> an eligible, relevant or former relevant child as defined by the Children Act 1989; Care leavers cover young people from aged 16-24s

Responsible local authority:	Host local authority:	Missing from care:	Away from placement without authorisation:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> the local authority that is responsible for a looked after child's care and care planning; 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> the local authority in which a looked after child is placed when placed out of the responsible local authority's area; 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a looked after child who is not at their placement or the place they are expected to be (e.g. school) and their whereabouts is not known; 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a looked after child whose whereabouts is known but who is not at their placement or place they are expected to be and the carer has concerns or the incident has been notified to the local authority or the police;

Anyone whose whereabouts cannot be established will be considered as missing until located, and their well-being or otherwise confirmed.

When a child's whereabouts are known, they would not be classed as 'Missing' to Police. However, where there are concerns because of the child's vulnerability or there is a potential danger to them or the public, a safeguarding response from Social Care and/or Police may be required.

3. Responding to Missing Occurrences - Levels of Intervention Model

Responding effectively to a missing child requires a partnership approach in which the police, parent/carers, the local authority and other partner agencies work together in the best interests of the child to ensure their wellbeing and safety.

The level of intervention required when a child is not where they are expected to be should be proportionate to the concerns held, together with the child's assessed vulnerability and the risk relating to that missing occurrence.

The assessed risk to a child and the situation can alter rapidly. Parent/Carers and agency actions and responses should adapt accordingly.

Where there is imminent risk to the child or wider public it is always appropriate for police to be involved.

In other cases, when a child is not where they are expected to be the parent/their carer holds the initial responsibility to contact and locate the child to ensure their safety and wellbeing and where possible their return; as shown in the below Levels of Intervention model.

This would include making an initial search of the child's home and any grounds; attempting to contact the child's friends, family members and known associates (where appropriate) to establish the child's whereabouts.

Where a parent or carer due is unable to undertake physical searches due to practical reasons, contingency planning regarding how and who should undertake these should have been agreed in the child's Placement Planning /Missing Assessment /Plan.

Levels of Intervention
Assessed level of concern		Intervention	Actions and Outcomes
No Intervention	The parent/carers is not concerned for the child's safety or the safety of others based on the information they have about the child and the circumstances of the missing occurrence	Based on the information known about the child and the circumstances of the missing occurrence, the parent/carers makes an informed decision to wait some time, to see if the child returns of their own accord.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) The child returns of their own accord (b) The child contacts the parent/carers (or another) and the parent/carers arranges to collect the child. (c) The parent/carers makes contacts with the child and the child agrees to either return home or be collected.
Carer Intervention	The parent/carers has some concerns about the child and their whereabouts, but at the outset of the missing occurrence the parent/carers does not	The parent/carers takes responsibility for trying to locate the child and ensure their safe return.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) The parent/carers considers if there are any reasons that warrant the child being immediately reported to the police as missing.

	have any immediate concerns about their safety of the safety of others.		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> (b) The parent/carer tries to contact the child by phone, text and social media. (c) The parent/carer undertakes a search of the home and surrounding area (or agrees with the child's social worker who will do this in the event they are unable to). (d) The parent/carer/child's social worker contacts family and friends. (e) If possible and safe to do, the parent/carer/the child's social worker visits locations where the child may be. (f) The parent/carer/child's social worker continues to try and contact /locate the child. (g) The parent/carer and the child's social worker continue to liaise until the child is found /returns. (h) Where contact with the child is successful and they agree to return, this is arranged by/between the parent/carer and the child's social worker. (i) The child is located; however, to ensure their safe return / the safety of others, police support is required and provided. (j) Contact with the child is unsuccessful and there are now concerns for their safety. The parent/carer/child's social worker reports the child as missing to the police and shares the relevant missing documentation.
Police Intervention	Based on the information the carer has about the child and the circumstances of the missing occurrence, the parent/carer is worried about the child's safety. The carer has been unable to contact the child, or they have	The parent/carer/child's social worker reports the child as missing to the police, or if whereabouts known, details the safeguarding concern.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) The parent/carer/child's social worker shares their concerns, and where applicable the child's Missing Assessment / Plan / Incident form with the police. 4. Risk Assessment

In assessing the significance of any child's missing episode, a risk assessment must be conducted.

Where a child is missing, relevant staff from Newcastle Council and Northumbria Police, must consider the above definitions alongside the Levels on Intervention Model, and take into consideration guidance already agreed on and incorporated into the child's care plan and factors listed below, when assessing risk.

Out of hours this will usually involve the Emergency Duty Team (EDT) social worker with police. If a young person is not looked after by the local authority the police will use the same criteria to assess the risk following discussions with parents.

?	What is the legal status of the child (e.g. Emergency Protection Order, Full or Interim Care Order, remanded, curfew conditions etc)?	?	Why are you worried about the missing person?
?	Is this out of character?	?	Does the child have any physical or mental health needs?
?	Is the child at risk of harm to themselves or others? (inc. is child likely to self-harm or commit suicide?)	?	Is the child at risk of being exploited?
?	Is there any suggestion that the child may be involved in extremism or at risk/vulnerable to radicalisation?	?	Is the child suspected to be the victim of a significant crime in progress, e.g. abduction?
?	Is the child in the company of a person who may cause them harm?	?	Any other particular circumstances at the time of the incident influencing the risk assessment?

All children who go missing must be reported to the police. The Police will determine the level of risk (low/medium/high) based on the information shared with them.

All professionals must ensure that all known information held on a child/young person is shared with the Police to ensure that the correct level of risk is applied – including if child is LAC or any other vulnerabilities.

Where a child is assessed as at risk of exploitation an 'SE' marker will be evident on the child's police information system.

The assessment of risk is a dynamic process and should be reconsidered and challenged at every point during a child or young person's absence. As a minimum requirement the risk assessment should be reviewed every change of police duty team, and the level of prevailing risk agreed by carers and other professionals responsible for that young person's health safety and wellbeing.

5. Police Responsibilities & Powers

Police will investigate all cases falling within the 'missing' definition and will respond in accordance with the Northumbria Police Missing Person policy and procedure, keeping a record on the appropriate missing person report / computer system.

The table below sets out the definition of each category and what each category means in terms of operational response:

DEFINITION OF RISK	OPERATIONAL RESPONSE
HIGH RISK The risk of serious harm to the subject or the public is assessed as very likely Serious Harm: a risk which is life threatening and/or traumatic, and from which recovery, whether physical or psychological can be expected to be difficult or impossible.	This category almost always requires the immediate deployment of police resources. Police Silver commander will be involved in the examination of initial enquiry lines and approval of appropriate staffing levels and allocation of ownership. Such cases will always have allocated a named investigating officer. There should be a press/media strategy and/or close contact with outside agencies.
MEDIUM RISK The risk of harm to the subject or the public is likely but not serious	This category requires an active and measured response by police and other agencies in order to trace the missing person and support the person reporting.
LOW RISK The risk of harm to the subject or the public is assessed as possible but minimal	Proportionate enquiries should be carried out to ensure that the subject has not come to harm.

As part of the daily triage process, Northumbria Police Missing Persons lists are checked for children/young people that have been or are currently missing and MASH officer's check that a Child Concern Notification (CCN) has been submitted. If there is no Child Concern Notification present, one is created within the Police MASH.

The Police MASH officers advise workers of any identified concerns regarding exploitation and missing, inviting the worker to consider MSET referrals and risk assessments.

Where there is reasonable cause to suspect that a child is suffering, or is likely to suffer, significant harm, there should be a strategy discussion/meeting (as set out in statutory guidance and NSCP safeguarding procedures: Child Protection Enquiries - Section 47 Children Act 1989).

Children's Social Care (CSC) will work collaboratively with police during any enquiry to locate a missing child. When Police locate a child reported as missing, Police will return the child to parent/carer/placement. In some instances it may be inappropriate to return a child to their home or placement and in all such cases Police will contact CSC Front Door (EDT out of office hours) for an evaluation of their safety.

Even after reporting a child missing, parents and carers should recognise that they are responsible for children in their care at all times and this responsibility remains when they have reported a missing child to the Police.

In all cases, police will inform CSC of all children who are reported missing within 1 working day via CCN.

Police Powers

Police powers are limited and difficulties can arise when missing children are found but do not want to return to their home or placement. In some instances it may be inappropriate to return a child to their home or placement, in all such cases Police will contact the Front Door (EDT if out of office hours).

Under the Children Act 1989, where there is reasonable cause to believe that a child could suffer significant harm the police can take that child into Police Protection and remove them to suitable accommodation which could include the home from which the child originally went missing.

The Police are not given the power to use force to take a child into Police Protection but reasonable force may be used to prevent a child suffering significant harm.

Where Police Protection is taken Police will inform the Local authority during office hours, or EDT will be contacted out of hours.

Any child who is unlawfully at large from a secure unit or penal establishment may be arrested and returned by Police. If the child is remanded to the care of the local authority without conditions, the Police will return the child to the designated placement. If the child's remand includes conditions (e.g. curfew) they will be detained and appear before a court.

6. Responsibilities of the Local Authority when children in care are reported missing or absent

Initial action to be taken by carers when a child is missing or absent

Carers must take all reasonable and practical steps to:

- Establish the whereabouts and well-being of the child or young person
- Determine the level of risk of harm to the child or young person
- Determine the nature and reasons for absenteeism
- Ascertain the likely intentions of the child or young person before contacting the police

Actions should include those in the Levels of Intervention table (pg4), including:

- Searching their own premises, immediate locality, and where the child is likely to be
- Make enquiries with other children and young people in the home/school /workplace (using social media where appropriate)
- Make enquiries with other professionals
- Make enquiries with relatives unless it is considered not in the child or young person's best interests
- Consider recent events
- Telephone/text the child and young person to establish their safety and well- being and use social media where appropriate

All issues/decisions/actions should be fully documented

Informing the police

Every child goes who goes 'Missing' must be reported to the police immediately where there is imminent risk to the child or wider public, in other cases initial enquiries should be made by the parent/carer to establish their whereabouts.

Whenever a child goes missing from a children's home or foster home then the foster carer or the Lead Person on duty in a children's home should also ensure that the following individuals and agencies are also informed as soon as possible and in all cases within 24 hours.

- The parents or those who have parental responsibility (where appropriate)
- The Social Worker or Team Manager
- The Emergency Duty Team (if out of hours)

Reporting procedure

Once a decision has been made to report the child or young person missing the carer should contact police using the non-emergency telephone number (101) unless they have significant concerns about the welfare of the child.

The carer, in consultation with other professionals responsible for the young person's health, safety and well-being, must be explicit when reporting an episode to the police so that the level of perceived risk to the child or young person is clear from the outset. This will determine the level of police response.

The carer will be given a unique reference/log number, which should be retained and used in any future contact with the police.

Information to be made available

When reporting to the police the following minimum information is required;

Description of the child or young person including their clothing;

Details of where the child or young person was last seen and with whom;

Recent photograph;

Relevant addresses;

Known associates and addresses frequented;

Personal details of the child or young person;

Previous history of absenteeism and circumstances of where found;

Circumstances under which the child or young person is absent;

Any factors which increase the risk to the child or young person; and

Name of the staff member completing the risk assessment and / or the search of the home and locality.

Philomena Protocol

The Philomena protocol is used as best practice to share information on risk, vulnerabilities, associates and places frequented by a child who is at risk of going missing – for more information see Philomena Protocol Leaflet

When a child moves to a placement, staff should complete this form (with the child where appropriate)

The information detailed on it can be used as an investigation plan for both parent/carer and police in the event of a child not being where they are expected to be. The protocol promotes joint responsibility for all agencies to work together to locate the child safely and quickly.

Philomena protocol can be used for non-looked after children where it would be of benefit to the child and other agencies.

Missing during external activity

If a child or young person becomes absent outside of their area, the carer in charge of the external activity will:

- Arrange a search in the area where the child or young person became absent
- Notify the local police for that area
- Notify the child or young person's parent or guardian
- Notify the child or young person's Social Worker or Team Manager
- Notify a senior manager of the home
- Notify the Youth Offending Team if the child or young person is on remand
- Notify the Emergency Duty Team, if out of hours

Longer absences

A strategy discussion/meeting must be held within 72 hours if a young person is missing for a prolonged period of time. The meeting will be convened for the purpose of developing a strategy to locate and return that child or young person to safety (this may or may not include the initiation of s47 enquiries).

Whenever a child or young person is missing for a longer period of time and in any case where the child or young person has been missing for 72 hours, the Director for Children's and Adult's Social Care will also be informed.

The meeting will involve:

The Team Manager from Children's Social Care responsible for the child or young person's welfare;

A police representative from the Safeguarding Team and/or the Missing From Home Coordinator

The registered manager of the children's home or fostering service and foster carer where appropriate;

Other relevant staff from Children's Social Care and the Youth Justice Team

Other relevant professionals working with the young person (e.g. health, education etc); and

The meeting may also involve parents if relevant or appropriate.

These senior officers will review the actions taken up to this point and satisfy themselves that all possible steps are being taken to locate and return the child or young person.

Recording

Throughout the period that the child or young person is missing, carers and social workers must keep a full record of all actions taken and messages received or given. Police will keep a record on the appropriate missing personal report/computer system.

The records should clearly include details of where the young person was found, any reasons the child has given for going missing and any actions taken in light of those reasons. This information is important for any future missing from care episodes.

Planning for return

If a child or young person is missing the appropriate manager from the Children's Social Care, in consultation with social workers, carers and police as appropriate, should prepare a contingency plan for when the child or young person is found.

Planning before the event

When children become looked after, parents or carers consideration should be given as part of the assessment of their needs as to whether they have ever runaway, staying in unknown, possible unsafe, places.

Prevention and early intervention services should be reviewed, and effectiveness evaluated every year, gaps identified, and plans made to fill any gaps. A prevention or early intervention service working with those identified as being at risk of going missing or who have already gone missing should be in place to prevent the continuation and escalation of behaviour.

If the Front Door of Children's Social Care receive three or more Police CCNs on the same child, regardless of the reason, a further discussion should be triggered, regardless of the outcome of each individual CCN. This will capture those children running away on repeat occasions where each individual episode does not give cause for concern when viewed in isolation, however when viewed as a pattern of episodes more concerns may be raised.

7. THE RETURN

General principles

When a child or young person is located the police, parents, social workers and any other person informed of the child or young person's absence should be notified without delay (unless these would place the young person at risk of significant harm).

For looked after children the general principle is that the children's services for the area from where the child is missing will be responsible for recovering the child and returning them to their home or placement, unless the child is located by police.

In some instances it may be inappropriate to return a child to their home or placement and in all such cases police will contact EDT for an evaluation of their safety.

If there are specific and identified issues of safety or public order associated with returning that child or young person then a coordinated approach to recover the child or young person should be agreed with the police.

Any out of hours referrals received by EDT involving a child or young person who has been reported missing or has returned should be forwarded to the relevant social worker or the Front Door. This information must include where the young person was placed.

Police interview or 'Prevention Interview'

The police will interview all children when they return from a missing episode. The purpose of the interview will be to gather intelligence about the missing episode and it serves to confirm the identity of the child and that they have returned.

If the child makes an allegation of crime that occurred whilst they were missing or that contributed to him/her running away, the police officer will record this allegation and take appropriate action.

Independent return conversation

Every child who goes missing will be offered a return conversation. These interviews will be conducted, from within the Specialist Support Team. Contact to arrange the interview should ideally take place within 72 hours of the child or young person's return.

High risk factors include:

Been missing for over 24 hours

Been missing on two or more occasions in six months

Engaged (or believed to have engaged) in criminal activities during their absence

Been hurt or harmed whilst they have been missing (or this is believed to be the case)

Known mental health issues

Known risk of sexual exploitation or contact with persons posing risk to children

Information gathered, as part of the return interview will be recorded on the young person's electronic social care record and shared with the police Missing From Home Coordinator.

Intelligence gathered from all interviews each month will be shared at the monthly MSET meeting (see MSET)

Where any allegation of abuse is made or becomes evident, local child protection procedures must be implemented immediately – see Responding to Abuse and Neglect and Report concerns about a child

If a young person discloses information that leads the independent interviewer to be concerned that there is an immediate risk to the young person's safety then the police and Children's Services (The Front Door during office hours, EDT at other times) should be informed immediately.

If there is evidence that a child or young person has been a victim or perpetrator of crime, consideration must be given to securing evidence by police, including forensic examination (with appropriate consent).

It is essential to recognise that the welfare of the child or young person is paramount and careful consideration should be given to the potential effects of the procedures on the child or young person.

Any disclosure of the child being the victim of an offence should be notified to police at the earliest opportunity to ensure safeguarding of the child and the wider community.

8. REPEAT MISSING

If a child or young person repeatedly goes missing (3 or more times in a month) or causes specific concerns due to risk factors when missing, a multi-agency strategy meeting should be held to develop a strategy to prevent future missing events and reduce the risk of harm to the child or young person should they go missing again. SHOULD THIS BE DELETED?

The purpose of the strategy meeting is to:

- Agree and record a pre-risk assessment
- Agree a reporting strategy
- Recommend the minimum enquiries to be undertaken by:
 - Carers
 - Children's Services
 - Police
- Agree an appropriate return strategy
- Consider contextual risks and appropriate interventions

Research has shown that there is no developing pattern in which the risks to a young person escalate the more often that they run away. Short absences may present the same risk as longer ones and should be viewed with equal seriousness and urgency.

It is not the number of previous absences but the particular information about what happened when the young person was away from home that indicates the level of risk that they might face should they go missing again.

- Consideration should be given to carrying out a new risk assessment every time a young person runs away.
- Repeat runaways should be viewed with as much concern as children who run away for the first time.
- The persistence of this behaviour would suggest at least that the action following from earlier assessments should be reviewed and alternative options considered.

9. 16- & 17-year-olds – Transition / supported accommodation

Supported accommodation can be used as a positive choice to support looked after young people aged 16 and 17 to transition to independence.

Supported accommodation is unregulated:

Unregulated provision

- These settings provide independent or semi-independent living, with staff available to provide advice and support to residents
- Unregulated provision is allowed in law
- Ofsted do not regulate this type of provision

Unregistered provision

- is when a child who's being provided with some form of 'care' is living somewhere that is not registered with Ofsted
- This is illegal
- Once a provider delivers a care element as well as accommodation, they must register as a children's home - It's an offence not to

Careful planning needs to take place to support a young person towards independence whilst ensuring safeguards are in place to mitigate any risk. OFSTED Guidance: Introduction to Children's Homes can assist with this (see indicators for supported accommodation)

When a young person does not return to their provision at an agreed time staff should be encouraged to use the Levels of Intervention to determine whether police involvement is required.

Where there is no assessed imminent risk to the young person, staff should contact EDT to notify them the child is away from placement without authority. EDT and/or social worker will periodically review the risk and where there is assessed imminent risk police should be notified.

10. OUT OF AREA PLACEMENTS

The Care Planning, Placement and Case Review statutory guidance and the associated regulations updated in 2013, outline duties on local authorities to notify other local authorities if they place a child in care within their area. It also requires children's homes to notify their host local authority when a child is placed with them by another authority.

In cases where a child placed in the Newcastle area by another local authority runs away from their placement, the home authority should call a strategy meeting. If necessary, this will include the relevant organisations from both the home and host authority and will establish a plan, as above. Local procedures should be followed and the response should also be based on the young person's care plan.

Where there is a history of the young person running away, the home authority must inform the host authority as part of the placement agreement. Appropriate details should be shared to support the home authority (who retain ownership) to manage the risk and informal care planning for the child. Any information gathered as part of the return conversation will also be shared with the host local authority.

11. Child Abduction

Children and young people who abscond or go missing are at an increased vulnerability of being abused and/or exploited, and other forms of harm.

It is frequently the case that parents, foster carers or social workers know where the young person is staying but feel powerless to prevent the adult in question from harbouring the child because there is no proof of a crime being committed against the child. In accordance with the missing children protocols, the police are usually called upon to assist with retrieving the child/young person, which involves their service in a great deal of time and resources, often with no positive outcome for the child.

In order to address this, the police in Newcastle have adopted a Child Abduction procedure aimed at disrupting and prosecuting those who present a risk to children and young people who they enable to stay away from lawful custody.

Guidance has been issued by Northumbria Police in relation to investigating and safeguarding children and young people through the use of Child Abduction Warning Notices (CAWNs) (formerly known as Harbourers' Warnings).

Police officers can access this guidance via the force intranet and professionals from other agencies can seek further advice regarding Child Abduction Warning Notices from the PVP/Safeguarding Department. The Warning Notices are issued by the police in accordance with Northumbria Police protocol and are not issued by other agencies.

The guidance contained within this protocol is aimed at tackling those young people aged under 16 (under 18 if in local authority care) who are at risk of significant harm due to their associations and the forming of inappropriate relationships.

Any report of a child abduction or immediate child protection will not fall under this procedure – such cases will be considered a crime in action and the relevant force child protection procedures will apply and supersede this process.

There are two types of Child Abduction Warning Notice which can be issued by Northumbria Police:

Child under 16 who is not under local authority care

- To issue a Warning Notice for children aged under 16 and not in local authority care, the police will need a complainant statement from one of the parents.

Child aged under 18 who is in the care of a local authority

- Where young people are looked after under section 31 the local authority will have full parental responsibility.
- In cases of interim care orders this responsibility can be shared.

A CAWN cannot be issued upon the child's parent

A warning notice can be issued by police a child under 16 (or 18 if under local authority care):

1. Child is subject to reports suggesting a suspect has induced or incited them to run away from the responsible person, or their behaviour and association with a suspect is giving rise to significant safeguarding concerns

OR

2. Child has been in the company of a suspect in circumstances in which it is suspected that the facts amount to an offence of child abduction, but there is insufficient evidence to justify a decision to prosecute, and safeguarding concerns still remain.

The Police Missing From Home Sergeant, Harm Reduction Supervision or out of hours duty Inspector can authorise the issue of the Child Abduction Warning Notice.

If there is evidence that the terms of a Warning Notice have been contravened, for example if the child has been reported missing and found with the suspect after the Warning Notice has been served, then the subject could be arrested and interviewed on suspicion of having committed an offence under the relevant legislation.

12. SAFEGUARDING AND CHILD PROTECTION

On each occasion that a child is reported missing from home or local authority care:

Northumbria Police – ACTION

- Police will submit a child concern to Children's Services in accordance with Northumbria Police procedure within 24 hours (missing from home only).
- At the point of return a Police Officer will visit the child/young person. Where possible the young person should be seen alone. The officer will provide contact details to the child to allow future contact if child wishes.

- Police information will be supplemented by information from other statutory partners and where appropriate the voluntary sector. Information from the return conversation will be shared with police and Children's Services.
- Where there is any child protection concern, this will be followed up as part of the daily triage process and appropriate child protection procedures followed.

Newcastle Children's Social Care - ACTION

- A full needs assessment should be considered by Children's Social Care (CSC) so that their broader needs can be identified and addressed.
- CSC will provide early intervention and support where necessary to understand and address reasons for running away.
- CSC should consider whether a S50 Recovery Order is applicable to this case.

WIDER STRATEGIC CONSIDERATIONS

- Newcastle will share with police any adverse findings of any OFSTED registered children's home in the area (for support and to address any wider safeguarding issues).
- Newcastle Planning Authority will notify Police of any applications for new children's homes or supported accommodation for children to enable police contribution to the Location Risk Assessment assessing the application from a safeguarding perspective.

13. Missing, Slavery, Exploitation, Trafficking (MSET) Group

Background

Newcastle Safeguarding Children Partnership (NSCP) and its partner agencies have a commitment to safeguard those young people who go missing and who are at risk of exploitation and other forms of harm.

The MSET group monitors those children and young people who go missing from home or care and/ or are at risk of sexual exploitation, criminal exploitation and/or trafficking/Modern Day Slavery.

The group meets monthly and is chaired by a Detective Inspector and is made up of representatives from a wide number of agencies including Children's Social Care, Education Welfare, health organisations and drug & alcohol services. Newcastle Council's Engagement and Participation Team also attend and they carry out the return conversation.

The aim of MSET is to add value to plans that are unable to mitigate risk through traditional approaches; MSET does not replace existing Child Protection (CP) processes.

Any professional working with children and young people in Newcastle who recognises signs and concerns around missing and exploitation should submit a referral to the Integrated Referral Team using the online referral form.

The– MSET framework and MSET Risk Assessment Form can supplement this referral process click the link for more details.

When existing child protection processes have been unable to mitigate the risk, the allocated social worker should complete the MSET Stage 2 Risk Assessment and Disruption Plan (on CareFirst) and submit to Virtual MSET Worker (once authorised by team manager). The case will then be discussed at Pre-MSET and considered for MSET panel.

Information sharing and data collection

“Intelligence sharing” is a standing item on the agenda for each MSET meeting. This allows police, the Early Help Service (responsible for the return conversations) and other agencies to share information on “hot spots” and other areas of concern as well as discussing individual young people.

Information will also be shared on a regular basis between the police and Newcastle Council to enable them to identify patterns where a child has:

Gone missing on two or more occasions

Has been involved as a victim or perpetrator in criminal behaviour whilst missing

Known mental health issues

Known risk of exploitation (sexual or criminal)

Known risk of contact with persons posing risk to children

Incidents that have generated assessments of needs (CAF/Early Help, Child Protection/S47, or Child in Need/S17)

Aggregate data about the profile of running away in the area will be collated by the police and shared with Children’s Services and other partner agencies through the Joint Strategic MSET Group and monthly MSET meeting.

This together with case data recorded via the MSET will allow the NSCP to identify:

Information will be broken down by:

The data will be regularly reviewed and analysed by the NSCP and will inform a proactive response to running and patterns of running in the local area.

14. FINDING YOUNG PEOPLE WHO ARE NOT REPORTED MISSING TO THE POLICE

When young people are located in circumstances where identified risk factors are evident but have not been reported missing to the police by their families or carers, further investigation might be warranted.

It may be necessary to consider police protection and enquire into whether there are any continuing child protection concerns, or whether the young person and their family or carers should be offered family support services.

Information will be shared via a child concern in such circumstances.

15. INFORMING THE MEDIA

The police have responsibility for advising the media regarding children and young people who are missing in order to assist in locating that person or warning the public if the child or young person poses a significant threat.

Decisions to publicise children missing from care will always be made in consultation with Newcastle Children's Social Care Service (and Newcastle Council's Communications Team) who in turn will consult with parents and/or carers prior to any media coverage.

16. Separated Children

Some children in Newcastle may be migrant children or unaccompanied asylum seeking children. Children in this group may have been trafficked into the UK and may remain under the influence of their traffickers even while they are looked after.

Trafficked children are at high risk of going missing, with most going missing within one week of becoming looked after and many within 48 hours.

Operation Innerste identifies that if the presenting asylum seeker is claiming to be a child (aged under 18 years), then the response to the separated child by Northumbria Police and the Local Authority will be that of them being a potential victim of trafficking in the first instance.

Police will invoke police protection powers where appropriate and Children's Services within the Local Authority will take responsibility for welfare of the child.

A Section 47 Strategy Discussion will be convened which will include immigration services/National Command and Control Unit (NCCU)

The agency with the best rapport with the UASC should submit a referral to Nation Referral Mechanism (NRM) where appropriate.

See the regional procedure: Children from Abroad, including Victims of Modern Slavery, Trafficking and Exploitation

17. CHILDREN MISSING EDUCATION (CME)

Children missing education are defined as children of compulsory school age who are not on a school roll, not placed in alternative provision by a local authority, and who are not receiving a suitable education at home.

Newcastle Council has a duty to identify children who are not receiving a suitable education either by being registered at a school or educated otherwise and there is a robust multi-agency process in place to prevent children from being 'lost' from the education system.

Initially it is the responsibility of the school or educational provision that the child is on roll with, to try to establish the whereabouts of the child by contacting parents or other family members, visiting the home address, contacting other professionals etc.

If they are unable to locate the child a referral to the CME coordinator should be made for further checks - Link to download the online form

Referrals to other agencies such as Police, Children’s Social Care, MSET, etc should also be made where appropriate. The CME coordinator will contact partner agencies to establish the whereabouts of the child. Police MASH should be the police point of contact.

The CME coordinator is responsible for informing schools when a pupil can be taken off roll, if there is no destination for the Common Transfer File (CTF) schools are informed to upload it onto the School2School system.
