Understanding Sandwell's Universal/(+) and Targeted COG Services Thresholds

Universal	Universal Plus	Targeted COG Services
Children with no additional needs and where there are no concerns. Typically, these children are likely to live in a resilient and protective environment where their needs are met. These children will require no additional support beyond that which is universally available. These indicators need to be kept in mind when assessing the significance of indicators from Universal Plus; Targeted Additional Needs; Complex/Significant Needs.	These children can be defined as needing some additional support without which they would be at risk of not meeting their full potential. Their identified needs may relate to their health, educational, or social development, and are likely to be short term needs. If ignored these issues may develop into more worrying concerns for the child or young person. These children will be living in greater adversity than most other children or have a greater degree of vulnerability than most if their needs are not clear, not known or not being met and multi-agency intervention is required, a lead professional will be identified to coordinate a plan around the child.	This Level applies to those children identified as requiring specialist support. It is likely that for these children their needs and care are compromised. Only a small fraction of children will fall within this band. These children will be those who vulnerable or experiencing the greatest level of adversity. Children with additional needs: These children may be eligible for services from The Local COG Team / Children's Social Care and are potentially at risk of developing acute/complex needs if they do not receive early statutory intervention. If a social worker is allocated they will usually act as the lead professionals and coordinate services.
Response	Response	Response
These children require no additional support beyond that which is universally available. An Early Help Assessment is not needed for these children. If a child's needs have been identified & can be met by the agency with the concern an Early Help Note should be used to capture & record needs. These should be logged on the Early Help System & be regularly reviewed, at least 6 weekly, by the agency completing the form.	In these circumstances an Early Help Note should be completed to capture and record needs. If at any time the outcome indicates a need for multi-agency services, an Early Help Assessment should be completed with consent and in collaboration with family/child/young person. Complete assessment on the Early Help System to request a Team Around Family (TAF) Meeting/Forward EH1 form to MASH Early Help Desk. A Lead Professional will be responsible for coordination of the episode. Reviews to take place at least 3 monthly. If you require support to complete an Early Help assessment or convene a TAF meeting you should contact your local COG team for advice.	An Early Help Assessment should have been completed. If not to progress to assessment with consent of family/child/young person and complete on Early Help System (formerly known as eCAF) to request a TAF Meeting/Forward EH1 to Early Help Desk in MASH. If additional services are required, then these will be coordinated through the Team Around the Family meeting and chaired by the Lead Professional. A bespoke package of support may be required a request can be made to the COG Manager for consideration re locality commissioning. In some cases, a single assessment will be completed and a child in need plan developed.
