

FGC to be offered along this continuum until a point where they feel able to engage with the FGC service. If the family have had an FGC at an earlier stage, this can be revisited to give the family the opportunity to amend their plan in response to a change in circumstances.