First part of actual assessment is a look at the situation from the family’s view point. Once you are trained, use the Outcomes Star to help you fill this part in. It will give you the family’s views and their strengths and weaknesses from their viewpoint in their own words.

Do use the young person’s own words and the parents/carers words in this section. You can also talk about how they came across in your opinion but as much as possible keep this the voice of the child/family.

When it asks “what support do you have now” this is about the family network – relatives, friends, community, faith groups etc who might be a support.

These boxes expand – don’t just write 3 lines because the boxes look small!

Assessment

How are things for you and your family?
How does this effect the children?

What is going well?

What would you like to be different?

What support do you have now?
What support have you had previously?

Assessment Tools are a new bit of the EHA where you can record tools you've used in the assessment.

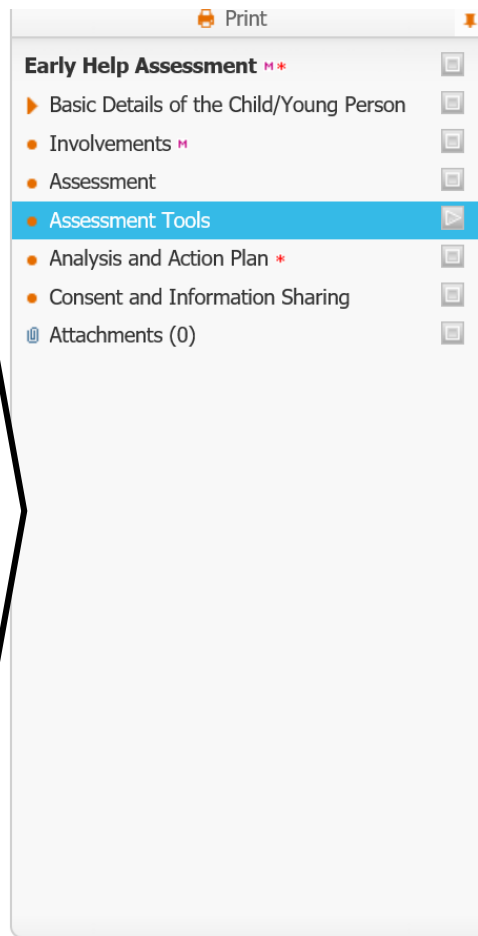

You can enter the scores from Outcomes Star here.

If you are completing a YRI you will need to use the "Youth Justice Out of Court Disposal" tool (see below).

You can upload your CSE/CCE risk assessment here as part of your assessment. There is also the Graded Care Profile neglect toolkit which we haven't been trained to use yet, so ignore for now.

The DASH RIC is a risk assessment for domestic abuse. You can enter the young person's version here if you are working with a yp in a violent relationship. Speak to Tim about guidance notes for this.

There is also an option for uploading any other assessment you want to add in.

Other Assessment Tool

If you select the YJ Out of Court Disposal tool it will be added to the assessment menu on the left.

It leads you through an analysis of the offence, patterns of behaviour, foundations for change and will ask you to score risk of reoffending, risk of harm and safety and wellbeing. You will need to give evidence for your scores. This will be the most important part of a YRI Early Help Assessment.

The Analysis and Action Plan page is the most important page of the EHA. The Assessment Summary and Analysis box is small – but is probably where you'll write the most (it will expand!). In this box you draw together the information you've entered elsewhere in the assessment and lay out your theory about what's really going on with the family or young person. What's really behind their problems, in your opinion. This will naturally then lead on to the actions in your action plan which is also on this page...
